Crimes Prevention Programs

Although the statistical reporting of theft offenses is not required by the Cleary Act, our department believes the university community should be aware of and guard against the theft of their property. It is important for all of us to understand our role in the reduction of crime. A conceptual aid often employed by crime prevention practitioners is referred to as the Crime Triangle. For any crime to occur three elements must be present: desire, ability and opportunity. Members of the university community easily recognize there is little that can be done to control the criminal's ability and desire. The university community's greatest strength in the prevention of crime is our initiative to reduce or eliminate the opportunity for a crime to occur. Protect Your Property

- By being more aware and observant during your daily activities. If you feel the actions of a person appear suspicious, take the time to notify the police. We would much rather receive the call and determine later there was no problem, than to not be informed when a crime is being committed.
- By being an active participant in "Operation Identification," you can record the make, model, and serial number of your property. Also, engrave your driver's license number with the prefix from the state of issuance. Once you have gathered this information, secure it in a safe place so that if you are victimized, this information can be entered in the state and national database of stolen property. The Yahweh Beauty Academy Police Department can assist you in the engraving of your property.

- By closing and locking your door when you leave your residence hall room or office.
- By not leaving your property (backpacks, textbooks, purses etc.) unattended and unsecured in the hallway while attending class or other activity.
- By not leaving property unsecured in your office or cubicle. Secure your valuables in a locked desk or cabinet while out of the office.
- By promptly reporting the presence of strangers in buildings and residence halls. Do not disable or prop open card reader doors or allow strangers to follow you into buildings and residence halls.
- By not leaving your property unattended and unsecured in dining facilities or in one of the libraries.
- By not leaving your property unattended beside the court or along the sidelines during your participation in activities in a recreational facility or on a sports field.
- By promptly reporting and cancelling your lost or stolen aggie bucks card, credit cards and debit cards to prevent unauthorized use.
- By not leaving your laptop computers or other computer handheld devices unattended or unsecured.
- By not leaving your property in plain view in your parked vehicle. Remove and store the items securely in the trunk or remove it for safekeeping these are examples of activities that have helped deter the opportunistic thief from taking advantage of you.

This institution does not have a campus police.

In the absence of the school director of education Monika Thomas is the highest ranking staff member available. This employee has be designated by the school director to collect such reports, such as the security department.

The campus security authorities have been provided with the information and materials then need to document reported crimes. There is a procedure in place to collecting and reviewing crime reports from the school alternate campus security authorities. If a crime is committed on campus and the authorities were not called, we document the events of the crime on the daily log, counsel the student and keep in the student's academic file.

The Campus Security Authorities can only enforce rules and regulations on campus and in the parking lot, we cannot enforce laws outside of these parameters. The Campus Security Authorities do not have authority to arrest an individual that commits a crime on campus or on public property adjacent to the campus, in such circumstances we call the Killeen Police Department. Furthermore, we do have a program that educates the student and the employees about the prevention of crimes during our monthly orientation for new students and employees.

During new student orientation activities, students are informed of services offered by the school. As a part of these programs the Killeen Police Department comes by the school and offers this type of training. This annual security report detailing crime statistics and recommended practices for personal safety and are made available. Similar information is presented to new employees. Monthly, during orientation, the school presents crime prevention awareness sessions on such topics as sexual assault (rape and acquaintance rape), theft, and personal safety. A common theme of the awareness and crime prevention programs is to encourage students and employees to be aware of their responsibility for their own security and to be concerned for the security of others.

Yahweh Beauty Academy seeks to provide a consistent, caring and timely response in cases when sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, or sexual exploitation have occurred or are alleged to have occurred, regardless of whether the incident took place on or off campus. School policies aim to:

- Outline the steps YBA will take to immediately and effectively respond and investigate incidents of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and sexual exploitation.
- Take prompt and effective steps to end the sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and/or exploitation, prevent its recurrence, address its effects (whether or not the sexual violence is the subject of a criminal investigation), and determine the need to notify appropriate law enforcement authorities.
- Protect the complainant as appropriate and facilitate the recovery from sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and/or exploitation by providing prompt and compassionate support and professional services.

- Create a campus environment that expedites and encourages the reporting of sexual assault, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and/or exploitation and clearly outlines the steps to file such reports.
- Facilitate the apprehension of the accused when sexual assaults, dating violence, domestic violence, stalking, and/or acts of sexual exploitation are committed or alleged to have been committed.
- Promptly and fairly administer cases involving students or employees through either the campus conduct process or other relevant school processes.

The information outlined in these protocols can assist a person in learning how to access a full range of on and off-campus services available. The school also prohibits and does not tolerate sexual harassment or discrimination.

Key Definitions

“Sexual assault” is any unwanted physical contact of a sexual nature that occurs either without the consent of each participant or when a participant is unable to give consent freely. Physical contact of a sexual nature includes, but is not limited to, touching or attempted touching of another person’s breasts, buttocks, inner thighs, groin, or genitalia, either directly or indirectly, or sexual penetration (however slight) of another person’s oral, anal or genital opening. Sexual assault includes, but is not limited to, rape, sodomy, oral copulation, sexual battery, sexual penetration with an object, forcible fondling (e.g. unwanted touching or kissing for purposes of sexual gratification), or threat of sexual assault. Sexual assault can occur either forcibly and/or against a person will, or when a person is unable to give consent freely.

“Sexual exploitation” is sexual misconduct that occurs when a person takes unjust or abusive sexual advantage of another for his or her own advantage or benefit or for the benefit or advantage of anyone other than the exploited party; and that behavior does not otherwise constitute sexual assault. Examples of sexual exploitation include, but are not limited to, videotaping or photographing of any type (webcam, camera, Internet exposure, etc.) without knowledge and consent of all persons; prostituting another person; knowingly transmitting HIV or a sexually transmitted disease to an unknowing person or to a person who has not consented to the risk; or inducing incapacitation with the intent to commit sexual assault, without regard to whether sexual activity actually takes place.

“Dating Violence” is violence committed by a person who is or has been in a relationship of romantic or intimate nature. The existence of such a relationship shall be determined based on the following factors: (1) length of the relationship, (2) type of relationship, and (3) the frequency of interactions.

“Domestic Violence” includes felony or misdemeanor crimes of violence by a current or former spouse of the victim, by a person with whom the victim shares a child in common, by a person who is cohabitating with or has cohabitated with the victim as a spouse, by a person similarly situated to a spouse of the victim under the domestic and family laws of the State of Texas.

“Stalking” means engaging in conduct directed at a specific person that would cause a reasonable person to fear his or her safety or the safety of others or suffer substantial emotional distress.

“Consent” is an affirmative decision to engage in mutually acceptable sexual activity given by clear actions or words. It is an informed decision made freely and actively by all parties. It is incumbent upon each participant to either obtain or give consent prior to any sexual activity. If at any time during the sexual interaction any confusion or ambiguity should arise on the issue of consent, it is incumbent upon each individual involved in the activity to stop and clarify verbally the other’s willingness to continue. Furthermore, a current or previous dating or sexual relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent, and consent to one form of sexual activity does not imply consent to other forms of sexual activity. Being intoxicated does not diminish one’s responsibility to obtain consent. A person cannot give consent if he or she (1) is a minor (under age 18); (2) has a mental disorder or developmental or physical disability that renders him or her incapable of giving consent; (3) is unconscious; or (4) is incapacitated from alcohol or other drugs, and this condition was known or reasonably should have been known to the accused.

Even though the definitions provided in these protocols are similar to those contained in applicable criminal laws, the definitions are specific to the Yahweh Beauty Academy. However, an act that might not violate or be prosecuted under applicable criminal laws may still violate these standards and protocols, university policy, and the Student Code of Conduct

Sexual Assault Prevention

It is the policy of Yahweh Beauty Academy to strive to maintain an environment that is free from intimidation and one in which students may be educated to their fullest potential. The school should foster an understanding of difference and encourage discussion regarding ethical and moral issues that form the basis of a humane social order. Therefore, the school will not tolerate physical abuse, threats of violence, physical assault, or any form of sexual assault, including but not limited to acquaintance or date rape, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking. A student who individually, or in concert with others, initiates or perpetuates a sexual assault, including but not limited to abuse of, threats against, or the unwanted touching of an intimate area of any other student, act of domestic or dating violence or stalking is subject to disciplinary action by the school, notwithstanding any action that may or may not be taken by the civil authorities. In addition to incidents that occur on the school campus, the school may take disciplinary action in response to incidents that take place during official functions of the school, or incidents that have a substantial connection to the interests of the school regardless of the location in which they occur.

The fact that the student accused of sexual assault, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking, was under the influence of drugs or alcohol at the time of the assault will not diminish the student’s responsibility for a violation of the Student Code of Conduct, nor shall being under the influence of alcohol or drugs be construed as an invitation to or as implied consent for unwanted sexual advances.

Privacy of Information

When sexual assault and/or sexual exploitation, domestic violence, dating violence, or stalking are reported or identified, the school will take reasonable steps to preserve an individual's privacy and protect the confidentiality of information while promptly investigating and responding. The degree, to which confidentiality can be protected, however, depends upon the professional role of the person being consulted.

The law will govern the extent to which the school and its employees may or must disclose information concerning a complaint of a sexual assault and/or sexual exploitation, dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking or knowledge of an occurrence. The school will promptly investigate and take appropriate action when it receives information suggesting that an incident of sexual assault or sexual exploitation or dating violence, domestic violence, or stalking has occurred, regardless of whether a formal complaint has been filed.

What to do Following a Sexual Assault or an Incident of Sexual Exploitation, Domestic Violence, Dating Violence, or Stalking

The victim should call 911 and/or a school security officer. School staff will guide the victim through the available options and support the victim in his/her decisions.

Options for Survivors of Sexual Assault, Dating Violence, or Domestic Violence Police and Medical

A student who experiences any form of sexual assault or sexual coercion or dating or domestic violence is encouraged to seek medical care immediately. People at least 18 years of age can have a physical exam to preserve evidence of the assault with or without involving the police. Reporting an assault to law enforcement does not mean that the case will automatically go to criminal trial or to a school disciplinary hearing. If the police are notified, a uniformed officer will be sent to the scene to take a detailed statement. A ride to the hospital can be provided by the police department. Survivors who want to have evidence collected and who choose not to call the police can go directly to the emergency department of Advent Health Hospital (<https://www.mplex.org>) at 2201 S. Clear Creek Rd., Killeen, Texas 76549; Scott & White Hospital (<http://www.sw.org>) at 2401 South 31st St., Temple, Texas 76508. Survivors who want help from the police should call 911; (254) 501-5800; (254) 501-5777. A survivor has the option to have a Sexual Assault Forensic Exam (“SAFE”) performed by a Sexual Assault Nurse Examiner (“SANE”). With a survivor’s consent, the evidence collected during this exam can be used as part of a criminal investigation. For more information about the SANE nurse, see <https://www.oag.state.tx.us/victims/sane.shtml>. The survivor is strongly encouraged to seek medical and psychological care and to be treated for any injuries. He/she can choose to take medications to prevent sexually transmitted infections and pregnancy, regardless of whether the police were contacted or a SAFE was performed.

- Evidence
 - Do what you can to preserve evidence. If you preserve evidence, you will have it available if you decide to report to law enforcement.
 - Resist the urge to change clothes or shower, if you can.
 - If you change clothes, place each garment in a separate paper bag.
 - Medical - Legal Evidence Collection (SANE Exam): A person who has experienced a sexual assault (particularly rape, forcible oral copulation, or sodomy) is encouraged to request collection of medical-legal evidence. Collection of evidence entails interaction with police, a police report and interaction with the prompt collection of physical evidence through an exam. This collection of evidence is essential should a person later decide to pursue criminal prosecution and/or a civil action.
 - In cases of Sexual Exploitation such as those involving the posting or distribution of pictures or videos taken without your consent or without permission for distribution, try to preserve any evidence you may have (e.g., pictures, texts, social media posts or videos).
- Medical Treatment: A person who has experienced a sexual assault is urged to seek appropriate medical evaluation as promptly as possible. For life-threatening conditions, call 911 or go to the nearest hospital Emergency Room. If you need assistance getting there call a school security official at (254) 813-1487.
- Obtaining Information, Support and Counseling: A person who has experienced, who has knowledge of, or has been affected by another person’s sexual assault, is strongly encouraged to obtain information, support and counseling.

A variety of agencies can help a person decide what steps to take, such as seeking medical attention, preserving evidence, obtaining counseling or reporting to authorities. Information, support and advice are available for anyone who wishes to discuss issues related to sexual assault and/or incidents of sexual exploitation. As stated above, the degree to which confidentiality can be protected depends upon the professional role of the person being consulted and should be addressed with that person before specific facts are disclosed. For more information, please contact the Texas Association against Sexual Assault (512) 474-7190, or the Killeen Rape Crisis Center (254) 634-8309.

The police will record the date and time of the assault details of the incident, and any description of the assailant you can give. If you know the assailant's name, it will be recorded. This report may influence the District Attorney's decision whether to prosecute another case if the same assailant has been named in one or more separate complaints. In addition, the police will maintain this information in the event a pattern of crimes by the assailant is detected.

Yahweh Beauty Academy will disclose to the alleged victim of a crime of violence or a non-forcible sex offense, the report on the results of any disciplinary proceeding conducted by the institution against a student who is the alleged perpetrator of such a crime or offense. Both the alleged victim and suspect will be informed of the outcome of any institutional disciplinary proceeding brought alleging a sexual offense. If the alleged victim is deceased as a result of such crime or offense, the next of kin of such victim shall be treated as the alleged victim for purposes of this paragraph.

Legal Options - A person who engages in a sexual assault may be the subject of criminal prosecution and/or civil litigation. A police report must be made before a criminal prosecution can be considered by the Bell County Attorney's Office. A person who wishes specific information about legal options should consult a private attorney and/or the office of the Bell County Attorney.

The school will provide written notification to students and employees about existing counseling, health, mental health, victim advocacy, legal assistance, visa and immigration assistance, student financial aid, and other services available for victims, both within the school and in the community

The school will provide written notification to victims about options, if any, for available assistance in, and how to request changes to academic, living, transportation, and working situations or protective measures.

Institutional Policies

Public Notification of Incidents - As required by state and federal law, the school must collect and report annually statistical information concerning sexual assaults and incidents of domestic violation, dating violence, and/or stalking occurring in its jurisdiction. To promote public safety, the school also alerts the campus community to incidents and trends of immediate community safety concern.
